

Equip Super selects Reg360 Software and Consulting to enhance their APRA Regulatory Capabilities

18 September 2023

Equip Super, announces the successful implementation of Reg360 Software, a cutting-edge regulatory compliance software solution. This implementation highlights Equip Super's ongoing commitment to meeting the funds compliance obligations.

"This strategic project represents Equip Super's commitment to proactively address the regulatory requirements faced by our industry," said Marc Pizzichetta, CFO of Equip Super. "With the addition of Reg360 Software, we are strengthening our position in terms of our capability to meet our obligations more efficiently."

Reg360 Software, renowned for its innovative approach to the APRA Regulatory Reporting obligations and governance of the dataset/static form submission process, is not only designed to automate the reporting process, but it also delivers an intuitive experience to analyse, review and adjust reports through auditable workflows. By integrating this powerful software into Equip Super's operations, the fund aims to strengthen its ability to meet the regulatory requirements governing the superannuation and retirement sector.

"Our team is pleased to be supporting Equip Super in their regulatory reporting objectives", Robert Philipsz, Product Manager at Reg360 mentioned, "Reg360 is a modern solution that combines the characteristics of high performance and high scalability with low latency, low cost, low maintenance and high availability. This technology support approach allows our clients to run end-to-end reporting processes in minutes rather than hours. We anticipate that this will increase operational efficiency and improved transparency for Equip Super as continued regulatory change occurs."

More than 60 regulated entities rely on RegCentric's expertise and solutions to address APRA prudential and reporting requirements. An increasing number of financial services organisations that employ batch processing are considering the transition to this innovative platform and advanced technology.

Reg360 delivers a collaboration platform that forms a central system for enterprise reporting. The solution supports companies to efficiently prepare and submit all regulatory reporting requirements, including granular data sets, in line with APRA's 5-year roadmap towards "Comprehensive Data Collections". Reg360 enhances regulatory reporting governance frameworks and enterprise data governance controls over data ownership, data quality and data lineage.
